Will Organize In Municipal Court Room Thursday Night

All young Republicans in Rockland and vicinity between the ages of 21 and 39 are invited to attend a meeting at the court room in the City Building on Spring street at 7.30 p. m. Thursday, for purpose of forming a Young Republican Club. The objects of the club will be to urge young men and women who are not voters to register, so that they will be eligible to vote in the June primaries; to encourage the participation of younger people in political activity; and to affiliate with and participate in the Young Republican Council of Maine.

TWINS WILL MEET

Maine twins will meet at the Augusta House at noon Monday, June 7, to plan a revival of the annual Maine Twin Party that was discontinued during the war. Weston P. Farrow, of Waterville, announced today. Anyone interested in the revival is invited to attend, he said. Gov. Horace A. Hildreth and his twin brother, Charles, will be present. Twins from all Maine counties are expected to be present, said Farrow. Prior to the war the annual party attracted nationwide attention by means of newsreels, radio programs and newspaper pictures and stories.

New Schooner Yacht Alphard Launched At Camden Saturday

The 42-foot schooner yacht Alphard was launched at Camden Shipbuilding & Marine Railways at 4 p. m., Saturday for Judge Curtis Bok of Philadelphia and Camden. Sponsoring the craft was Mrs. Bok. Designed by Geord Hendel of Camden with Malcolm Brewer as master builder, the Alphard follows the general design of the yacht Gone away, launched last year by the same yard for Maurice Cheston of Pulpit Harbor and Philadelphia.

The yacht is 42 feet overall, and measures 30 feet, 6 inches on the waterline with a beam of 10 feet, 4 inches and draft of 6 feet 4 inches. She is powered with a Gray Sea Scout engine with two to one reduction gear. The frame is of white oak with African mahogany and deck plank of Port Orford cedar. Everdur fastened throughout. The interior is finished with natural white pine and black walnut.

The mast is aluminum and carries 845 square feet of sail made by Larsen of New York and fitted with Merriman roller reefing gear. Winslow-Holbrook-Merritt Post, American Legion, will hold nomination, election and installation of officers Thursday night at the Elks Home.

Earthrocking Boat

Captured Japanese Craft To Be Exhibited Here Next Saturday

The Navy Club of U.S.A. will exhibit in Rockland one of its mobile exhibits next Saturday at the corner of Maine and School streets, between the hours of 9.30 a. m. and 9.30 p. m. There is no admission charge. However, voluntary donations are gratefully accepted and funds so raised help the Navy Club of U.S.A. carry on their extensive welfare and rehabilitation program.

The feature of this exhibit is a captured Japanese suicide PT boat. The PT boat is known in Japan as the Shinryotei, which translated means earthrocking boat. It is 18 feet long and is powered by a Japanese built six-cylinder engine of American design and is capable of a speed as high as 50 knots per hour. In the bow of the ship there was a 675-pound anti-submarine depth bomb rigged with a contact head, and it was the suicide pilot's job to ram this ship into one of our vessels. This suicide pilot was expected to join his ancestors after the fulfillment of his mission, and the Shinryotei was part of the fanatical plans made by the Japanese for the defense of their home islands. This PT boat was captured intact at Amami Oshima in the Ryuku Islands, and was brought to this country by the Navy Department for test and observation. It is now loaned to the Navy Club of U.S.A., and is being toured nationally by them.

Among the items shown in this exhibit are the sword of the infamous Captain Miconite, who commanded the Marine detachment on Amami Oshima and who was found guilty of countless atrocities against the Chinese and American troops, and who was later executed.

In the PT boat wherein the pilot sat to guide the ship he had his feet secured in two 32-pound shoes and his feet were locked in there so he could not escape after starting out on his suicide mission. There is also the famous Japanese sniper's air rifle which was used by them with such deadly effect in the jungle fighting and caused such a terrible loss among our troops as well as the famous burgundy, one of the fastest firing small arms weapons known.

Circus Is Coming

King's Bros. Combined Shows Will Exhibit Here On June 28

The Great King Brothers Combined Shows is headed this way. It will appear here June 28.

Fresh from triumphant Spring engagements in Eastern cities King Brothers promise to uncork the very latest in the way of streamlined thrills with its 150 performers recruited from foreign countries.

Traveling with the big combined shows this season are 600 people, a herd of elephants, 12 menagerie animals and horses. Great convoys will transport the circus from hither to yon. Joe Mix, here of more than 100 movies with a congress of rough riders, cowboys and cowgirls, Indians and Cossacks, promises to make the old West live again. The famous cinema star will be seen on Rowdy his prize mount.

Everybody wishes to see the King Brothers Circus this year, which recently returned from a triumphal five-year tour of South America, and it is a foregone conclusion that the big tent, seating 5000 persons, will be filled to the last chair afternoon and night. Six rings and stages and the hippodrome track will be used for the earth's foremost arenic talent—150 acknowledged kings and queens of daring, grace, skill and incredible agility. Miss Cito Christana, charming and youthful equestrienne, will be head of a great array of riders.

AS SLOW OUR SHIP

As slow our ship her foamy track
Against the wind was cleaving
Her trembling pennant still looked back
To that dear isle 'twas leaving
So loath we part from all we love,
From all the links that bind us;
So turn our hearts, as on we rove,
To those we've left behind us!
When, round the bow, of vanished years
We talk with joyous seeming,
With smiles that might as well be tears,
So faint, so sad their beaming;
While memory brings us back again
Each early tie that twined us,
O, sweet's the cup that circles then
To those we've left behind us!
—Thomas Moore.

OUR MEMORIAL DAY OBSERVANCE

Was Marked By An Excellent Parade and Appropriate Exercises

The dead of the nation's wars were honored yesterday by local parades, band and veteran's associations. Led by Captain Philip H. Newbert and sergeants of the Army and Air Force Recruiting Service, the parade got under way exactly on time, moving over Union to Park and down Park to Main.

Services were held at Schofield-White Park for those who died at sea. A firing squad led by Battery D of the 703d AAA and went to the edge of the dock in the park for the ceremonies, under command of Sergeant Winfield Chato. A poem was read by Rev. John H. Barker of the Littlefield Memorial Church. As the three volleys cracked out across the harbor, flowers for the dead were strewn on the water by Mrs. Eliza Plummer and members of her official party aboard the lobster smack Bluppie.

Taps was sounded by the battery bugler and the party returned to the company which had been drawn up along Main street facing the park with the remainder of the parade units.

The battery made an exceptionally fine showing under Lieut. Edward Gibson. Many service ribbons of the recent war were seen on the shirts of the marching men, giving the newly formed National Guard outfit a base of seasoned men. The unit also participated in the services held at Tenants Harbor in the morning.

In the line of march with the National Guard were sizeable representations from Winslow-Holbrook-Merritt Post American Legion and Huntley-Hill Post Veterans of Foreign Wars and Ralph Ulmer Camp, Spanish War Veterans. Affiliated patriotic bodies of the Grand Army of the Republic were represented by delegations, most of which were transported in cars loaned for the occasion.

The Girls Scouts made a fine showing both in numbers and their appearance in marching as did the Boy Scouts. The four pieces of apparatus of the Rockland Fire Department brought up the rear of the parade.

Leaving Schofield-White Park, the parade continued up Main street to Ralph Ulmer Park where services were held by members of Ralph Ulmer Camp, Spanish War Veterans.

The line of march then continued along Main to cottage street to North Main and then to Main and Limerock, to the Grand Army Hall where the major services of the day were held. The Memorial Day address was delivered by Rev. Herman Winchenbaugh, Lincoln's Gettysburg Address was given by Peter Sulides of Rockland High School while Miss Evelyn Perry, also a High School student recited Flanders Field. Memorial wreaths and flowers were placed on the Grand Army memorial monument by members of the GAR patriotic bodies.

An interested audience in attendance upon the above exercises listened to an especially fine address by Rev. H. R. Winchenbaugh. "Memorial Day is more than just a holiday; it is a day of memories, a day of mourning, a day of tribute. It is a day to look backward upon the past and a day to look forward to the future. It is a day when every loyal American stands in solemn salute, while the sacrifice, the bravery, the chivalry of our soldiers in all our wars living and dead are passing in review.

"We are gathered here today to pay tribute to our intrepid fathers and our dauntless sons, who have fallen on the battlefields of the world. They who have fought fiercely and fallen bravely, for that unseen mistress, their country.

"Memorial Day is a day of memories. Memories of Antietam, of Gettysburg, of Shiloh, flood back into our minds. But we see, too, the American heroes who fought in all of America's wars for the land they love so dearly and the land for which they were willing to give the last full measure of devotion.

"They loved the emblem of our freedom—Old Glory. Yes, the flag that floats from the flagpole today is really the same flag under which the boys in blue fought as they sang 'We are coming Father Abraham, 100,000 strong.' It is the same flag that flew with Washington's troops, when blood stained the snow at Valley Forge; the same flag that went with Jackson to New Orleans; the same flag that Grant raised at Appomattox. It is the flag that Dewey and Achley and Sampson flew over the Spanish possessions in 1898, and the same flag that Black Jack Pershing carried to the shores of the Rhine.

"This is the flag that the Marines raised over two Jima, and the flag that went with Eisenhower to North Africa to Normandy and then across the Rhine, the flag that MacArthur raised again over the Philippines and which now flies in Japan. It has flown on all the seas of the earth and all the continents thereof, and with the help of God, it will fly high forever over our land, signifying to our own and to all the peoples of the earth that freedom shall never die.

"Friends, veterans, you are being told by a small club of subversionists in this country that America is archaic; that Americanism is outmoded; that your government is not as efficient as government under Communism or socialism or

Their Fifty-Fifth

Mr. and Mrs. Alden Ulmer Happily Remembered On Wedding Anniversary

An "open house" in the truest sense of the word was held from 2 to 10 p. m. Saturday by Mr. and Mrs. Alden Ulmer observing their 55th wedding anniversary. The cheery Willow street home was thronged with friends and well-wishers throughout the day and evening, late comers held up by their employment keeping house ablaze with light until well after the stated hour.

Well over 100 persons from Rockland and neighboring towns took occasion on this busy day to pay their respects to this highly thought of couple and there were many local and distant friends who expressed their felicitations with floral offerings, among these being ex-Governor and Mrs. Sumner Sewall, long-time friend of the Ulmers, who never fail to remember these anniversaries. Dozens of congratulatory cards came from far and near.

Assisting Mr. and Mrs. Ulmer in receiving and taking over the arduous task of preparation for the reception were their devoted daughters, Mrs. Faith Brown and Mrs. Doris Melvin.

The refreshments of punch, sandwiches and cakes were most attractive, the angel cakes being colored in soft pastel shades of pink and green. A highlight of the affair was the presentation to Mr. and Mrs. Ulmer of a handsome wedding cake, handwork of talented Mrs. Ralph Stickney. Many gifts, including money, were received by the couple.

Hempsteads Greeted

Begins Sixth Year Of Methodist Pastorate With Everybody's Wishes

The reception tendered Rev. and Mrs. Alfred G. Hempstead Friday night by the members of the Pratt Memorial Methodist Church under the general chairmanship of Lay Leader Ralph U. Clark, was largely attended. The occasion was the beginning of the sixth year of Rev. Hempstead's pastorate of the local church and a happy aftermath of the recent highly successful State Conference of Methodists held at the Rockland church.

The vestry was attractively decorated with Spring flowers, the committee including Mrs. Thelma Stanley, Mrs. Lena Stevens, Mrs. Louise Gregory and Mrs. Margaret Philbrook. In the receiving line were Rev. and Mrs. Alfred G. Hempstead, Dr. and Mrs. H. V. Tweedie, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Chatto and Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Gregory.

A delightful program was presented under direction of Mrs. Louise Gregory. The numbers included Barbara Clark and John Blackman, winners of the recent Sophomore Prize Speaking contest, presenting a cutting from "Beyond the Horizon;" and "Tom Sawyer's Love Affair," respectively. Warren Whitney rendered a group of songs accompanied by Mrs. Lorita Blocknell, including "Till Walk Beside You," "Now is the Hour," and "The Serenade of the Bells."

A gift of money was presented to the Hempsteads and Mrs. Hempstead was given a beautiful bouquet of pink roses.

Refreshments were in charge of Mrs. Ivy Chatto, Mrs. Thelma Stanley, Mrs. Edith Tweedie, Mrs. Vince Clark and Mrs. Fannie Dow. Serving were: Miss Leona Wellman, Miss Arlene Fickett, Mrs. Madeline Jackson, Mrs. Alice Stillphen, Miss Edith Clark, and Mrs. Stella Ellingwood.

Rev. Mervyn Vaughan Parry has accepted a call to serve the Sawyer Memorial Congregational Church in Jonesport. Mr. Parry will preach his first sermon on June 13. Mr. Parry began his Christian Ministry in the Jonesport church in 1938. Word has been received that his name has been included in the 1948 edition of Who's Who in New England.

freedom of religion to its people. The free State, in turn, derives its life blood from the free and voluntary practice of religion in the lives of its citizens.

"The free State must be sustained by religion. It cannot survive without truthfulness, honesty, loyalty, justice, generosity and mutual helpfulness in the life and character of the people. But the State cannot create these qualities of life, so indispensable to its existence. The practice of freedom in religion must create these qualities for the State."

Girls' Softball Team Edges Boothbay Harbor To Win That Honor

The girls' softball team made their first place in the league one step higher Wednesday by defeating a determined Boothbay Harbor team 11-10. The girls got off to a good start by scoring once in the first inning and six times in the second. They did not score again until two runs came across in the fifth and then two more in the seventh.

The score going into the last inning was tied 9 all. Dorr and Prock both reached and came in on costly error units, the tie breaking and running run, the Harbor girls managed to get only one run in the seventh.

Rockland 7, Belfast 4

The Tigers broke their two-game losing streak, Friday by defeating the Belfast High boys 7 to 4. Murgita, on the mound, for Rockland really showed that he knew how to "work" a batter. His pitching was excellent.

The Crosby line showed the fans a hustling hard working team all the way through.

Deshon's work at shortstop is getting better all the time. The boy is good. Don Marsh is coaching at third base these days. He was hit by a pitch in the Thomaston game last week and his elbow just won't work right when he bats. His good work at first base and his heavy stick are missed by the R.H.S. Tigers.

The Camden boys also made many errors but the Tigers couldn't cash in on them quite as much.

This was Andy Weymouth's second defeat of the year against four wins.

LINDBERGH'S NO GROUCH

The famous airplane "Spirit of St. Louis" in which Charles A. Lindbergh made his epochal solo flight from New York to Paris in 1927, is to lose its place of honor in the Smithsonian Institute, Washington, and will be replaced by the "flyer" in which Orville Wright made the world's first successful heavier-than-air powered flights at Kitty Hawk, N. C., Dec. 17, 1903. And what does Lindbergh say about it? The airman wrote the Smithsonian recently, in effect, that he would be "honored" to have his plane hang in the same hall with the craft in which Wilbur and Orville Wright made the world's first successful flight.

A SENSIBLE GENERAL

There was a great stir in the nation's political circles when it was announced last week that Gen. Douglas MacArthur would be invited to come home from Japan to testify before a Congressional committee, but the famous warrior quickly set rumors of "politics" at rest when he declared that he would come home "after" the Republican National Convention. And in making this decision Gen. MacArthur has risen to renewed heights in the public's estimation.

RESULT OF A TEST VOTE

Of course nobody knows how the U. S. Senatorial contest is coming out, because it is evident that the candidates are all waging an active canvass. It is interesting to note, however, that a test vote was taken at the Farmington State Teachers' College, whose roster contains 232 students, 98 eligible voters and 46 veterans. The result was a distinct triumph for Margaret Chase Smith who received a total of 244 votes. Sewall received 30 votes, Hildreth 39 and Beverage 13. All four of the candidates had addressed the student body at different times.

FAREWELL TO FINE CITIZEN

The outpouring of Masonic brethren and citizens which marked the funeral services of Dr. James A. Richan Sunday afternoon was a fitting tribute to a man who had left such a strong impress upon the community where he had long resided, and an organization in which he had played such an important role. Rockland bids this eminent citizen sad farewell.

THE FINNISH PUZZLE

Finland will hold its first national election since early 1945 on July 1. As in Czechoslovakia, the Communists have been preparing for the election by strengthening their hold on the police. Also as in Czechoslovakia, the non-Communists have decided to challenge their opponents on this issue. When they secured the dismissal of Yrjo Leino, the Communist Minister of the Interior, it looked as if they had gained a victory. What has happened since then is still somewhat of a puzzle, but already the victory is taking on a Pyrrhic aspect.

After Leino's dismissal, the Communists immediately began applying pressure. What went on behind the scenes, whether the Kremlin gave the Finnish government a hint of its displeasure, is not yet known. Certain it is that Soviet propaganda has been threatening, and defenseless Finland cannot ignore the proximity of the Red Army. Political strikes were engineered by the Communists in the unions they control, and this created a threat that reparations to Russia would be held up, thereby providing Moscow with an excuse to intervene in Finland's domestic affairs.

The crisis was resolved by a "compromise" whereby Hertta Kuusinen, wife of Leino, was given a Cabinet post, and Leino's key ministry was turned over to another Leftist. Since it is Hertta who has the greater influence in the Finnish Communist party, it cannot be said that the Finns gained much by getting her in exchange for her husband, Eino Kilpi, the new Interior Minister, was a Social Democrat until a few days ago, but has now joined the Communist-run Democratic Union. Thus he does not seem to be the man to challenge Communist control of the police. His conversion to fellow traveler seemed puzzling, but it should be noted that he has a Communist wife.

Perhaps the Finnish Democrats may congratulate themselves on not having been completely worsted in this particular crisis. There is still a month to go before the elections, however, and the Finns remember uneasily the words of Hertta Kuusinen, who said publicly: "The road of Czechoslovakia is the road for us." Were Finland not under the shadow of the Russian bear, its Communist minority would be at worst a public nuisance. As it is, the Communists, despite their lack of popular following, have unlimited possibilities for political blackmail. They do not want to take the beating at the polls which they must expect in a free election. Knowing their methods, we must fear for the future of free institutions in Finland.—Herald Tribune.

Lincoln Academy pounded out a

5,000,000 Youngsters Need Our Help NOW

The bumper wartime crop of babies, about 5,000,000 larger than the population experts expected, is reaching school age.

At school these youngsters should find a good education awaiting them. That is their most cherished American birthright.

But unless something is done quickly, millions of these children will be cheated. They will crowd into classrooms already run on double shifts. They will move in with children who are now sitting two in a single seat. They will read germ-loaded books mangled by a generation of use by grimy hands.

II

So the continuing crisis in American education is given a new twist by unexpected pressure on school plant and equipment.

The U. S. birthrate has jumped by leaps and bounds. Instead of declining in the '40s, as the experts expected it would, the rate climbed from 17.9 per thousand in 1940 to 21.5 in 1943. It jumped to 25.9 in 1947, an increase of 45 percent since 1940. Result—by 1956 elementary school attendance in the United States is expected to jump from 18,200,000 to more than 23,400,000, an increase of about 5,200,000, or more than one-fourth.

The rush has already begun. It will pick up speed next Fall.

Now, while this pressure has been building up, our public schools and their equipment have been running down—first through inevitable wartime neglect, then because inflation and material and labor shortages made it difficult to catch up.

If we are to give this bumper crop of youngsters the break they deserve—and reach the educational standards the nation needs—we must speedily do a major job of educational rehabilitation and expansion.

III

Some headway has been made in overcoming the teachers' salary crisis.

Teachers' salaries are improving. Pay problems were driving good teachers away from their posts in droves not long ago. But in the year since the 57th editorial in this series emphasized this crisis, the average teacher's annual salary has increased about $300—from $2250 to $2550.

True, increases vary enormously from State to State and from town to town. In a few States the average increase has been $500; in some less than $100. But, for the nation as a whole, last year's increase put teachers about even in the race with the cost of living. After taxes, their salaries have risen 68%, and the cost of living 67%, since 1939. In terms of pay increases, however, they are not nearly as well off as are industrial workers, whose average weekly wages after taxes have risen 108% since 1939. They are far behind farmers, whose net income is now four times what it was in 1939. And teachers had notoriously low salaries to start with.

A great deal more needs to be done in raising salary standards to put our school system on a firm footing. There are still about 100,000 teachers, nearly 12% of all public school teachers, who hold temporary or emergency credentials. They cannot meet prevailing standards, and not very severe standards at that, for persons holding their posts.

The salary crisis, however, is easing.

But now comes the new crisis in school buildings and equipment.

We would have been hard put to get our schools back into shape after years of wartime neglect—even without a booming birthrate complicating the problem. Right now, 85% of all public school buildings need major remodeling to remove health and safety hazards.

And we aren't building enough new schools to keep up with current needs, to say nothing of catching up on those we are not able to build during the war years. School construction expenditures for 1948 are estimated at $375 million—which is less than what was spent in 1939. With building costs twice as high as they were in 1939, that means we aren't even holding our own—we are falling further behind.

And now comes the rush of war babies.

IV

We must spend at least $11 billion on new schools and equipment in the next decade.

Public and elementary schools must have $6.6 billion. Equally important, another $4.4 billion must be invested in buildings and equipment in our private schools, colleges and universities if they are to meet the demands which will be made upon them. The private school and the privately endowed university are doing their full share and doing it well. The need for them is increasing.

These figures cover only rockbottom needs for educational plant and equipment. But statistics are a very restricted recorder of this crisis.

You can see it better, I'm sure, in schools not very far from your home. There are schools with leaking roofs and outdoor toilets in our greatest cities. There are schools where students still use histories and geographies copyrighted before 1920—books with no mention of World War I, the depression of the 1930's, the Russian Revolution or the rise of the dictators. There are countless schools where modern methods of visual education are completely unknown.

All of these conditions promise to get worse—promptly—as that scheduled five million increase in the school population gets rolling.

V

The Metropolitan Life Insurance Company does not indulge in lurid prose. It says after painstaking study of the educational crisis that:

"Unless definite measures are taken immediately . . . large numbers of American boys and girls will be deprived of an adequate education."

Currently we are deeply concerned about our military defenses. We are taking, and I think rightly, emergency measures to strengthen them. But we must regard our schools as a part of our national defense as vital as are our armed forces. This is particularly true in these times of fifth columns and ideological warfare.

If we are wise, we will raise our sights. We will give the continuing crisis in education the same urgent attention being given the more obvious but no more real crisis in national defense.

Go to the schoolhouse in your neighborhood and discover what needs to be done to provide for the rising tide of young Americans. Ask your school board and your school administrators and teachers how you can help them.

That is good citizenship.

That is patriotism.

That is our duty to the oncoming generation.

The sprinkler system which has been in process of installation at the Thorndike Hotel the past year has been completed, and tests out with very satisfactory results. The installation includes every detail of the big building from attic to basement and gives absolute protection to the occupants of the 80 rooms. The work has cost many thousands of dollars, but Proprietor Berliawsky finds double recompense by making the hotel fireproof, and the notable reduction which it means with insurance rates.

Marshall Ames Of Matinicus Serving Aboard the Destroyer Wilson

Marshall L. Ames, seaman apprentice, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyford E. Ames of Matinicus, is serving aboard the destroyer USS Robert L. Wilson, which has visited the fabulous river city of New Orleans for a four-day break in operational training. His ship was part of the largest force of combatant ships to enter this port since Admiral Farragut stormed it during the War between the States.

The warships, under the command of Rear Admiral R. P. Briscoe, USN, include one carrier, five destroyers, two destroyer-escorts, and two submarines. They had been undergoing intricate task force operations when they paused at New Orleans for logistic support and shore liberty for their weary crews.

Daily sight-seeing tours in the Mardi Gras' home town exposed Jean Lafitte's hideaway deep in the Latin section of the balconied French Quarters.

The Robert L. Wilson was named after a Marine hero killed on Tinian.

Next of kin will be notified in advance of the arrival date of the transport, and again three days before bodies are shipped to next of kin by the regional distribution center of the American Graves Registration Service.

Armed forces dead originally interred in temporary military cemeteries in New Guinea and the Philippines are included in the shipment. Those whose bodies will be shipped to next of kin residing in Maine include W3 Joseph A. Anderson, Navy, Virginia A. Wellman of Beech street, Rockport, next of kin.

The aims of the committees, "to feature highlights of the State and General Federation of Garden Clubs."

Mrs. Leola Wiggins, horticulture chairman, spoke on "Cultivation of a Garden," and read a short article by Richardson Wright.

Past President Mrs. Francis Pearson mentioned that Rev. Alfred G. Hempstead, the speaker at the April meeting, asked that Garden Club members donate to the Maine State Prison at Thomaston any surplus plants from their own gardens, to be used by the prisoners in their flower gardens.

Mrs. Carley, therapy chairman, mentioned the fact that the first and third Wednesdays of each month from three to five, has been set as the days for Rockland Garden Club members to help at the Hyde Memorial home in their garden therapy work, and asked that members with cars volunteer their use for transporting members to Bath.

Joseph Conley, Camden mill worker, was sentenced to three months in jail on charges of larceny of $100 from his landlady, Addie Why-not of Camden and fined $100 and costs of court, or 30 days in jail on charges of drunken driving brought by the sheriff's department. He pleaded guilty to both charges.

Richard Bean of Belfast, arrested by State Trooper Foley, was charged with operating an unlicensed motor vehicle and was fined $10 and costs of court, or 30 days in jail.

Lewis J. King of Union was fined $5 and costs on charges of violating the public drinking law.

Winners Of the Sophomore Speaking Contest Win Members' Approval

The announcement by President Ken Crane at the meeting Friday, that "Bill" Cunningham would speak June 16 on "America's Responsibility in World Affairs" at the Community Building, won the approval of the Club as to being a timely subject and one that should be of great interest to the public at the present time.

The "Bill" Cunningham night is sponsored by the Rockland Rotary Club and the following committee was appointed to handle the sale of tickets, etc.: Dana Jordan, chairman, Lawrence Bray, Rex Garrett, Ted Ladd, Bob Lunt, Ray Perry, and Clint Robinson.

After the song period, ably handled by Ray Perry and Staff Congdon, President Ken remarked that the Rotary sponsored Scout Troop 208, had now reached two patrols and with Clayton Blier as Scoutmaster and Clint Robinson as assistant, the troop was making fine progress.

The meeting at this point was turned over to Ned Cutting, charge of program, who introduced Allison Smith, Sub-master of Rockland High School. Mr. Smith expressed his thanks to the Rotary Club for sponsoring the Sophomore Prize Speaking Contest which gave the students the opportunity as well as prizes, in appreciation for their efforts. He stated that the selections for the students were taken from various plays and that from the 120 students participating, eliminations were made until four girls and four boys were selected by the judges for the finals.

Mr. Smith went on to say that it gave him great pleasure to introduce the winners of the finals, namely, Barbara Clark and John Blackman.

Miss Clark, active in the High School Glee Club and orchestra, gave her presentation first, "Beyond the Horizon" by Eugene O'Neill. Blackman, president of his class, followed with "Tom Sawyer's Love Affair," by Samuel Langhorne Clemens.

Much credit is due these two young people as adaptability of each to their own presentation was excellent. It was apparent that a great deal of time and effort had been expended, but justly so, as the results were pleasing and well done. To the teachers, particularly Mr. Smith, credit is again due for the selections and training of these students to a successful conclusion.

Visiting Rotarians, J. G. Wandell, Myerstown, Pa.; Francis Bickford, New York; Willard H. Hopkins, Cambridge, Mass.; H. P. Hughes, Augusta, and Larry Passmore, Ray Conley George Perry, C. Kendall Hopkins and Jason Westfield, Camden.

Endicott-Johnson Store Plans To Aid War Children

The local Endicott-Johnson Store is cooperating in the nationwide Old Shoe Drive, sponsored by Foster Parents' Plans For War Children, to collect two hundred million pairs of shoes for the men, women and children, of war devastated Europe and China.

Beginning this morning a large bin will be placed in the store, where customers who have bought a new pair of shoes may drop their old shoes, as a contribution to the drive. The bin will be surmounted by a poster bearing the drive slogan, "Walk Out In Your New Shoes. That They May Walk In Your Old Shoes."

The shoes will be forwarded to the Collection Depot of Foster Parents' Plans For War Children, 122 East 34th Street, New York, 16, for immediate shipment overseas.

Arrangements are being made at the depot to send at least 6000 pairs daily, according to Mrs. Edna Blue, international chairman of Foster Parents' Plan For War Children. Mrs. Blue said that when she visited Europe recently she saw mothers with rags tied on their feet, carrying children who had no shoes over the rubble. . . she said there were hundreds and hundreds of children who had lost feet and legs through frost-bite which had become infected!

Miss Sylvie Hamilton, head of "Fashion-Mating," 47 West 34th street, New York City is chairman of the drive.

New Parking Laws

Modified To Greater Satisfaction Of The Motorist

Tomorrow night at midnight, new ordinances relative to parking meters, traffic violation fees, go into effect. Parking hours on Main and Limerock streets will be from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m. Monday through Friday, and from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. Saturdays. The new ordinance advances the time one hour in the morning in which motorists can have free parking before the meters go into effect and cuts one hour the time required for paid parking on Saturday nights.

Traffic violation fees were formerly $1 for the first offense and $2 and $3 for the second and third offenses with court appearance being a possibility on the fourth occasion. The new ordinance provides for a 50 cent fee, regardless of the number of violations. The violator will no longer be required to sign a statement that his or her payment is a voluntary contribution in lieu of court appearance, but will instead receive a receipt from the police for the money paid. This action was advocated by former Police Chief Lillenthal for some months prior to his resignation.

City crews have already changed the parking regulation signs to comply with the new ordinance. This action places the police in the position of being unable to enforce the old parking times as there is not a proper posting of the correct times in effect from now until midnight Wednesday. Actually, the new parking times are now in effect.

June 2 and engaged in his first battle June 3, in the vicinity of Aisle. He was killed in action Oct. 7, 1944, in France.

Surviving are his parents, one brother, Edwin, and a sister, Margaret.

At Appleton Ridge

Fish and Game Association
Eats Nice Supper and Talk Shop

The Knox County Fish and Game Association met at Appleton Ridge Tuesday night. A supper was served under the direction of Ernest Gushee; with a speaker and outdoor films after the meeting.

A committee of local ladies prepared and served a dinner of ham, mashed potatoes, green beans, cabbage salad, gravy, hot rolls, pie and coffee. Mrs. Esther Keating, chairman of the committee, was assisted by Evelyn Pitman, Irene Mink, Eva Griggs, Francis Robbins, Sylvia Gushee, Elizabeth Gushee, Inez Ames, and Bessie Jackson. The food was excellent and well served. During the dinner Lloyd Miller and John Dana supplied music on their accordions, and the members enjoyed singing after the dinner.

During the business meeting the subject of the pollution of the streams of Knox County was discussed. Private dumps, mills and the public have cluttered up some of the streams to such an extent that the health and breeding of game fish is seriously impaired.

It was voted that the club secretary should contact the Attorney General and the head of the Sea and Shore Fisheries Department to see what steps can be taken to correct these conditions. The situation certainly demands attention, not only to better the conditions for sportsmen but as a means of doing away of a very bad eyesore along the highways.

Ralph Carroll announced that a total of 25 streams in Knox County had been stocked by the State and that the Georges River had been stocked at three different places. A new member, Ralph Hamlin said that he considered the famous rivers and streams of the Georges River in a class with the Catskill Mountains of New York and that if properly publicized could be equally famous.

A committee was appointed to go to Augusta to see what can be done to control the water level of Georges River by opening and closing the gates of some of the dams whenever it is advisable.

The guest speaker, Earl Conant, told of the organization of a Maine State Fish and Game Association. The affiliation of the local clubs into this Statewide association will bring power to the clubs as the unity will make the members of the individual clubs into a large body. There are 75 clubs in the State which are eligible for membership, totaling 40,000 or 50,000 members.

Several interesting outdoor films were shown by Ed Bowden of Waterville. These films were in color and were taken by Mr. Bowden himself in his travels throughout the State. A film on the conch hunt trial in Waterville was especially enjoyed by all present.

The large attendance at the services bore witness to the lasting esteem, in which the deceased was held. A man of quiet habits and tastes, his interests centered about his home and his work. His disposition was cheerful and unselfish. Underneath was a fund of humor, which only his close friends knew. His activity and keen interest in life kept him young, though he passed many hours in an exacting war, during which he was engaged in the construction of fuel oil tanks for shipyards making government boats at Thomaston, Damariscotta, Bristol, Waldoboro and Rockland.

Among those from out of town, who attended the services were, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Hahn, Mrs. Minnie Newbert, and Miss Edna Hill of Thomaston, Mr. and Mrs. Weston Petrie, and daughter, Miss

Buoyant answer to Back Road and Boulevard

White sidewall tires, as illustrated, available at extra cost.

REMEMBER that rough patch of road up yonder where the ruts and ridges make a washboard seem smooth?

Recall the tiring tenseness brought on by the drum and hum of road noise and tremor even over smooth concrete highways?

Well, clock away the miles in this stunningly styled Buick — and meet up with the sweetest answer to such matters this side of cloud cruising.

"It's a ride that's soft and smooth as velvet," folks tell us. And we tell them it comes from a host of things.

It comes from the ample road-weight of a two-ton car built low and wide — and so beautifully balanced it handles light as a baton. It comes from the leveling buoyancy of Buick's all-coil springing which puts a pillow of deeply coiled steel at each wheel to soak up the bumps and ripples.

It comes from the softness of bigger, lower-pressure tires that cushion away road tremors and roughness — from the sure-footed, swerve-free steadiness of Buick's extra wide Safety-Ride rims, widest in the industry.

And it comes in special measure from a brand-new engineering gem we call Vibra-Shielding which banishes vibration build-up.

Here for the first time you're freed from the motoring fatigue brought on by tiny tremors piling up into bigger ones. Here your miles are made moss-smooth and quiet — long journeys become mere jaunts.

So why delay knowing the most buoyant answer to any road you ever traveled?

Come visit us now. Know at first hand the distinctive styling, the flashing action, the velvety ride over highway and byway that are Buick's and Buick's alone.

Then follow your heart's desire and get your order in promptly. We'll take it in proper sequence whether or not you have a car to trade.

REASON FOR THE VIBRA-SHIELDED RIDE

Placed with scientific exactness, 3 fat cushions of special composition cradle the engine so as to control its vibration frequency. Engine vibration is thus kept "out of tune" with those that might come from other parts of the car. The result is to shield car occupants against tiring pulsations, cut road noise, make engine sensation almost imperceptible and motor practically fatigue-free.

Dreams Fulfillment
Sweet, youthful English maiden
Wistful constant-singing mind
Reaching for light through darkened hallways
And, timbered roadways of your time
Treading sands in surf-spumed waters
Seeking star filled ventures blessed
Were your dreams in far off England
Ere wafted on ocean's stormy crest
To the new untroubled highways
Of warbling skylark-land of song
Did you dream far-flung adventures
Did your days seem overlong?
When fulfillment through migration
Came in glittering arabesque of space
Did arrival frustrate melody
In those dreams of longed-for chase?

CAPITOL STUFF

By Governor Horace Hildreth

Use of the extra money allocated to the Forestry Department by the Governor and Council last Winter recently has been outlined by Commissioner A. D. Nutting, and indicates a healthy program toward further protection and prevention measures in connection with possible future fire emergencies.

According to the commissioner's report, $511,000 was spent for new equipment and for training schools for wardens in the organized towns. In addition, $70,000 was loaned to the Maine Forestry District for new equipment.

Under the town program, major items purchased included 12 new pick-up trucks, three lookout towers, seven power pumps, 25,000 feet of one and one-half inch hose, 100 Indian pumps and a quantity of hand tools. Major items purchased for the Forestry District program included pick-up trucks, power pumps, hose and tools.

Under the warden training program, 18 district meetings were held in February in conjunction with the Extension Service for selectmen and town forest fire wardens. More than 1000 individuals attended these meetings. In March, two training schools were held for Forest Service personnel, conducted by U. S. Forest Service men. In April about 75 percent of the town forest fire wardens of the State attended a one-day training school.

In addition, a large number of community meetings have been held in which State district wardens were present to outline some problems in town forest fire control and to encourage better equipment and better training. These meetings, according to Commissioner Nutting, have also been useful in providing the Forestry Department with equipment inventories on behalf of the towns.

The money allocated by the Governor and Council for training proved helpful in the training program in that it permitted the department to put all wardens on duty in March, whereas normally they would not have gone to work until April. Two more seasonal wardens have been added, also.

Of interest to model plane enthusiasts, undoubtedly is the news that on June 27 a model plane meet is to be held at Augusta State Airport, with many of the clubs throughout the State planning entries. John T. Clark, Director of the Maine Aeronautics Commission, foresees much keen competition during the event.

The first class of students enrolled in the Maine Vocational-Technical Institute in Augusta will complete the full two year course next Fall. Everyone connected with this educational project has been proud of the success of the State's first technical school, established in November, 1946, to fulfill a need for training midway between the technical college and the practical experience of trade apprenticeship.

At the close of the war it became evident that Maine lacked facilities necessary to provide post-high school educational opportunities for all its youth. The 92d Legislature made provision for a State-wide committee to study the advisability of establishing one or more State institutions to offer vocational education to young men in Maine.

On recommendation of the committee that such schools be established if funds were available, the Executive Council joined me in allocating $125,000 from the contingent fund for this purpose. When the school opened, 25 students were enrolled, and the registration increased steadily until today more than 100 young men are studying in the fields of metals, combustion engines, radio and industrial electricity. Morris P. Cates, State Deputy Commissioner of Education, serves as Director and is assisted by a faculty of qualified technical and subject matter instructors. Registrations are being accepted for the Fall term.

It is evident to anyone concerned with the welfare of the young people of the State and for that matter with the well being of the State itself that there is a definite need for schools which prepare for living and making a living. Commissioner of Education Harland A. Ladd has expressed his pleasure with the school's accomplishments. He joins me in urging our young men who are interested in this type of education, to consider enrolling at the Maine Vocational-Technical Institute next September.

You had to listen hard to hear the mellow, fine-car purr of that heavenly, made-for-Mercury motor. You had to hear it to believe that this 8-cylinder, V-type motor was not in a car far beyond Mercury's price class.

You sat on a flying easy chair with a luxurious "comfort-zone" seat cushioning you. You made your own "weather" inside the car—with something they called "Fingertip Weather Control." A controlled flow of fresh, filtered air—no fog on the windshield—no opening to drip water on your stockings. That was comfort you'd dreamed about. That was all-new. That was Mercury!

You saw something exciting!

An all-new kind of car beauty—longer, lower, wider—with a poised, graceful silhouette. It was not a "new model" looking pretty much like last year's with its face lifted. You saw the ALL-NEW Mercury in a choice of superb body styles—including the new Six-passenger Coupe and Six-passenger Convertible.

You were happily married to the steering wheel!

You felt so safe, so secure, because Mercury didn't "wind-wander" or "over-steer." Mercury took the curves with ease. Its perfect balance, the way it hugged the road, and its fat new super-balloon tires gave you a ride that was smooth as satin.

You tiptoed into a new world of driving pleasure!

You knew thrills that—until this year—came only to the owners of the costliest cars. You learned about big new brakes that bring you to a swift, sure, yet gentle stop... about all-new beauty, comfort, performance... about how really new a car can be! That's Mercury, 1949 Mercury, the ALL-NEW Mercury!

Now you know how new a car can be!

Webre-Flanagan

Camden Girl Becomes Bride Of Texan In Rockland Church Service

Miss Rose Virginia Flanagan of Camden became the bride of John P. Webre of Houston, Texas, in a charming ceremony at 10 o'clock, Saturday morning, in St. Bernard's Church. Rev. James P. Savage performing the double ring ceremony.

The church was beautiful in the simple dignity of the decorations of white snapdragons, stocks and smilax. The bride was lovely in a white gown with seed pearl collar, long train and fingertip veil caught with a seed pearl tiara. She carried a bouquet of white orchids, roses and lilies of the valley. She was given in marriage by her eldest brother, William Flanagan. Mrs. H. Gill Roper of Camden, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore yellow tulle and carried a bouquet of mixed sweet peas. The bridesmaid was Patricia Rich, niece of the bride. She wore a white eyelet dress over pink tulle and carried a mixed bouquet of sweet peas. The best man was Edmond Pincoffs of Houston, Texas. The ushers were three brothers of the bride, James, Judson and Arthur Flanagan, and John Crowley of Bangor.

The music of the Mass was beautifully rendered by St. Bernard's choir, of which the bride was formerly a member, with Arthur Doherty at the organ and Mrs. Jane Foley, soloist, rendering Schubert's "Ave Maria."

Mrs. Webre is a daughter of the late John H. and Mary Flanagan of Rockland. She graduated from Rockland High School and Gorman State Teachers' College and taught for three years in the Camden schools previous to enlisting in the Waves in which she served three years. Surrounded by her stalwart brothers, her sisters and their families, the picture left a profound impression with every guest.

The reception was held at Richmond, Camden the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Eugene C. C. Rich, the wedding party receiving the guests.

The table decorations were in silver and white with smilax, stocks and candytuft, flanked by tall white tapered forming the centerpiece. The six-tier wedding cake was a gift of Mrs. Clifford Dickey, Camden. The guest book was in charge of Carol Kent, niece of the bride.

HOME RUNS

SEEDLING TREE

Without the help of forests, America's sportsmen would be hard pressed for equipment. From the swing of a hickory bat to the thud of a croquet mallet, our forests keep us supplied with sporting goods. But what will tomorrow's home run kings use?

Fortunately for future world's series, trees grow, and forest crops harvested for the Bambino's big bludgeons are already being replaced with new trees growing toward maturity.

Today, on forest lands from coast to coast, "tree farmers" are raising trees for tomorrow as carefully managed cash crops. Do your share by helping to keep fires out of our woodlands. Help KEEP AMERICA GREEN.

A SEBASTIAN
New Haven, Conn., May 25. Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—

To the question, "Maybe somebody knows who Sebastian was," which appeared in The Black Cat column of May 21, I find that my encyclopedia claims that Sebastian, (256-288), Christian saint and martyr. A Captain in the praetorian guard of the Roman Army, he was arrested on the charge of being a Christian and was ordered shot to death by archers by the Emperor Diocletian.

A Christian woman named Irene, finding him alive, drew out the arrows and nursed him back to health. He then remonstrated with the Emperor for his cruelty, but was ordered to be beaten to death with cudgels. His body was found in a sewer by another Christian woman, Lucia, and was buried in the catacombs.

The Cardiff Giant

Gigantic Hoax Still Remembered By Some of Rockland's Aged

The Cardiff Giant, one accepted by thousands as a "petrified human" before it was revealed as a gigantic hoax, has found a final resting place in Cooperstown, N. Y., after 79 years of wandering.

The stone Goliath, one of America's most sensational practical jokes, goes on exhibition in the Farmers' Museum of the New York State Historical Association.

The Cardiff Giant, measuring 10 feet, 4 1-2 inches and weighing 2900 pounds, is on view in approximately the same position in which it was uncovered in 1869 on the farm of "Stub" Newell, near Cardiff, in central New York.

Workmen digging a well there unearthed a giant "body," slightly contorted as though the man had died in pain.

Crowds swept into Cardiff to view the "giant in the earth." They paid 50 cents to look. The take soon reached $100 an hour.

Scientists, ministers and educators acclaimed the "find" as the greatest marvel ever discovered. A Yale graduate said it was of Phoenician origin. The New York State geologist said it was a statue probably made before Indians inhabited America.

Others held it substantiated an age-old Indian tale of an Onondaga stone giant.

However, many cried "humbug," including Andrew D. White, first president of Cornell University, and Prof. O. C. Marsh of Yale, an authority on fossils and sculpture.

P. T. Barnum's offer of $150,000 for the giant was refused. The circus impresario made his own replica.

In the midst of the furore, George Hull, Binghamton tobacco dealer, confessed the Cardiff giant was his brain child.

For a barrel of beer, he had obtained a block of gypsum at Port Dodge, Ia., the stone's black streaks later were "identified" as petrified veins.

A Chicago sculptor fashioned the giant recumbent figure. Hull rubbed the statue with sulphuric acid to give a mellow, aged-in-earth look. Hull smuggled the form to the farm of Newell, his brother-in-law and interested it. About a year later, Hull directed workmen to dig a well on the spot.

Hull said he intended to ridicule religious extremists who accepted literally biblical references to "giants in the earth" in ancient times.

The giant was exhibited in several eastern cities, later was purchased by a Fort Dodge resident and placed on view there. Gardner Cowles, Jr., newspaper and magazine publisher, bought the giant in 1936 and set it up in his basement playground in Des Moines, Iowa. The New York State Historical Association acquired it from Cowles.
